GLDE-100

Banknote deposit machine

The GLDE-100 deposit machine can dramatically increase productivity of your company's back-office or redistribute client flows in your branch. Your customers can carry out deposit transactions and your employees can deposit their revenue to a spacious reusable bag without any staff assistance. GLDE-100 helps you automate and increase effectiveness of any cash deposit point, from the huge retailer back-office to the commercial bank branch.

GLDE-100 allows accepting cash from clients safely and quickly into a spacious bag, which is installed in the UL-24h safe. This provides maximum effectiveness of the device footprint.

This equipment is dedicated to continuous deposit and storage of banknotes in the UL24h safe with a possibility of online accounting. GLDE-100 – a deposit machine with high banknote bundle counting speed and escrow module. High hopper capacity allows to sufficiently reduce counting time and provides uninterrupted depositing. It can be used as a regular banknote counter as well.

Deposit processing with storage

- Escrow – Deposits are held in escrow for approval before being committed to the storage bag.
- Envelope deposit – Unfit notes as well as other non-cash items (e.g. gift vouchers, cheques, and coins) can be manually entered and added to the total. Placed in envelopes, these items can be stored in the storage bag, with no need for a separate process.

Value counting without storage

- Counting – Notes can be counted at up to 600 pieces per minute. The large infeed hopper can accommodate up to 300 pieces thus reducing counting time.
- Batch counting – User definable (random or preset) batch size can be chosen to provide comfortable banknote counting.

Transporting and security assurance of cash

- Reusable cash bag can hold up to 15 000 banknotes thus sufficiently reduce collection frequency.
- Security shutter of escrow module keeps cash safe until the transaction ends.
- The bag is made of water-resistant material and has a sealing capability.
- Bag head construction eliminates unauthorized banknote taking out. The bag has competitive specification compared to cassettes when it comes to functional characteristics and durability.

Highly reliable multi-currency recognition

Glory's highly acclaimed recognition and authentication technologies will prevent the acceptance of counterfeit banknotes. Even inexperienced operators can handle both local and foreign currencies in a reliable and productive manner.
